TO WORK AMONG SICK

T. F. McCREA IS BEING TRANSFERRED TO Y. M. C. A. WORK AT BASE HOSPITAL

Mr. and Mrs. T. F. McCrea and family leave Tuesday for San Diego. Mr. McCrea will continue his work at Camp Kearny, but his family will be more accessible than they have been at Glendale, and he will be able to spend more time with them, hence the change.

Truman Mc Crea will continue at Throop, and will board with Mrs. Ireland on Milford street after the members of his family leave.

Mr. McCrea states that the year they have spent in Glendale has been one of the happiest of their lives and they have learned to so love the community that they regret being obliged to leave it. Mr. McCrea has been especially interested in the Red Cross work here and is very glad to know that the Chapter is prospering so well.

He expects to continue in Y. M. C. A. work at Camp Kearny until next fall, when he had planned to return with his family to China, but should the war promise to continue for a long time, he might remain at the camp and postpone the trip to China. Before they leave they will visit Glendale.

Mr. McCrea says that officers and soldiers speak in constant praise of the work of the Y. M. C. A. In a chat which he had with General Strong a few days ago, the General praised the work in the highest terms, especially among the sick boys at the hospital. Mr. McCrea is being transferred this week from the work of Religious Secretary in Building 4 to that of Religious Secretary in the Y. M. C. A. Building at the Base Hospital, where he will work among the sick soldiers, of which there are about one thousand at the present time. Most of the illness is of a light character, and many of the men are simply in quarantine under observation. It is Mr. McCrea's work to cheer up these boys who are sick or in quarantine and who get very homesick when they are cut off from a soldier's activities.

Any help which he can get from outside will be much appreciated. He has received from Mrs. Doxey on Louise street about a dozen scrap books containing jokes and cartoons likely to entertain the boys, and would be glad to have more of these.

MISS ROBINSON ENTERTAINS

Miss Zoula Robinson was hostess at a little dance which was given at the home of her mother, Mrs. L. N. Hagood, 1454 Salem street, Saturday evening. Piano and victrola furnished the music and violets were given as favors. Simple refreshments of sandwiches and punch were served. The guest list included: Harriet Barnes, Mary Logan, Billie and Dottie Gregg, Martha Gray, Helen Beach, Dorothy Brown, Russell Tummel, Roland Brown, Merritt Brown, Louis Reed, Marshall Pearson, Irving Westwood, Manford Barnes, Fred Dodge, Paul McCowan.

CHILDREN ENJOY HAILSTORM

Glendale children had a great treat in the freak storm which descended upon the city Monday afternoon in rain, hail, lightning and sunshine at almost one and the same time. For some time there were threatenings of storm in the heavy clouds that overhung the mountains. When it finally broke it was in hail heavy enough to strew a white carpet on lawns, streets and roofs and furnish material for snowballing and snow building. The hail was very soft and therefore did no damage. The boys and girls improved the very unusual opportunity and had a good time with it. The children of A. W. Huskins, 1517 Ivy street, and their playmate made a snow man about the size of a five-year-old child. Temperatures were rather bleak, but the rain was so welcome no one complained.

B. P. O. E. BALL

The Elks of 1289 will give their first ball in their new Club House on Colorado street next Friday evening, Washington's Birthday.

It is an invitation affair and in a way will be a dedication of their beautiful new ball room. It will also inaugurate a series of dances which they purpose to give during the season. Entertainment will be provided for those who do not dance. Each member will have the privilege of inviting a friend. Invitations may be secured from the entertainment committee, of which J. H. Hearnshaw is chairman, or from Willis M. Kimball, Secretary.

WEATHER FORECAST—Fair tonight. Wednesday warmer. Southerly winds.

THRIFT PROMOTION

MEANS OF AIDING NATIONAL CAMPAIGN DISCUSSED BY P.-T. A. FEDERATION

The regular meeting of the Glendale Federation of Parent-Teacher Associations was held in the auditorium of the Intermediate school on Monday, February 18, at 2:15 p. m.

Owing to the illness of the president, Mrs. Arthur Brown, Mrs. Opal Greenwalt, first vice-president, filled the chair most acceptably.

The written reports of the presidents of the various P.-T. A.'s were read and the remarkable work going on in the organization brought unlimited applause.

Miss Flood brought greetings from the High School and told of the fine work going on and to be carried out; Supervisor White spoke on the wrong impression held by some people that membership in the Junior Red Cross is being forced upon the child. He pleaded that this impression be corrected where necessary, as the child can by service given to that cause become a member without payment of the 25-cent fee. Mr. White also made the statement that he had been appointed on the Thrift Stamp Committee and requested that an invitation be extended to him or other speakers on that subject to all meetings of the various schools. It is needless to state he was accorded that privilege with heartiness.

It was unanimously voted that a potted plant and notes of sympathy be sent to Mrs. Arthur Brown and Mrs. C. E. Hutchinson. It was voted that in the near future a "Country Store" be held in an effort to secure funds for the Federation Work.

Mrs. Patterson of Pasadena, who is visiting the Glendale schools with the wonderful garments made by children out of every conceivable piece of material, brought her collection and exhibited it for the benefit of those present. These articles of clothing are for the French Relief and all there learned a lesson such as probably never occurred to them before on real thrift. Mrs. Patterson stated that this work started in a neighborhood meeting of a few people, has grown to such proportions that 40,000 garments have in four months been shipped to France without one penny of expense, everything, even transportation, being donated.

A rising vote of thanks was given Mrs. aPtterson, Mrs. Nichols, Mrs. Baker and Mrs. Ella Richardson, who were instrumental in bringing Mrs. Patterson before the board and returning her to Pasadena. Mrs. Brown offered the use of the old Red Cross headquarters for work of this kind, if desired.

Mr. Hartman spoke on "Thrift" and was well received.

During the course of the afternoon a recess was taken to view the wonderful hail storm accompanied by thunder. It was thoroughly enjoyed from the standpoint of a California novelty and many remarks of the days agone were made by those Easterners who have not returned in many years. Supervisor White announced the meeting of the program committee at 2:30, February 19th, at the Intermediate school. The meeting then adjourned.

FAREWELL RECEPTION

Mrs. Blake Franklin and Mrs. S. R. Frazee were the hostesses at a farewell reception tendered Mrs. E. L. Schuyler Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Frazee at 1435 West Broadway.

The living room was beautifully decorated with yellow cinneraria for the occasion. In the dining room pink roses and carnations decorated the pretty table where punch was served by Mesdames H. W. Yarick, H. V. Everly and W. H. McRae.

It was given for the purpose of giving the ladies of the Congregational church an opportunity to say good-bye to Mrs. Schuyler, who goes Wednesday with her husband to Phoenix, Arizona, to make a new home there. In spite of the bad weather ladies were coming and going all the afternoon and the rooms were filled at all times.

GREAT REVIEW AT CAMP KEARNY

A great Division Parade at Camp Kearny is scheduled for February 22d, when there will be a review of the whole division of 300,000 men. T. F. McCrea, who witnessed a rehearsal of it, states that it will take over an hour for it to pass the reviewing stand. A grand stand which will hold several thousands of people has been erected for the occasion and a parking place has been provided for the hundreds of automobiles which are expected to bring visitors to the parade. This, it is believed, will be the last review before the men are sent to France.

RUSSIA WILL FIGHT

BOLSHEVIKI FOREIGN MINISTER TROTSKY MAKES KNOWN GERMANY'S STARTLING PEACE TERMS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

PETROGRAD, February 19.—Russia will fight, the Bolsheviki foreign office declared today. If Germany advances against Russia it will be declared a counter revolution and they will be treated as enemies. Trade relations with Germany are impossible. Germany will get no food until she revolts and joins the Russian proletariat.

Foreign Minister Trotsky outlined for the first time the startling peace terms suggested by Germany, which Russia refused. These included the retention of Poland, Lithuania, Riga and Moon Island and likewise provided for the payment of $4,000,000,000 indemnities.

TRIPLE MURDER AND SUICIDE

INSURANCE AGENT AT COLUMBUS, OHIO, SLAYS HIS FAMILY WITH HATCHET, THEN TAKES OWN LIFE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

COLUMBUS, Ohio, February 19.—Four persons are dead and a fifth may die as the result of a triple murder and suicide here today. Forest Bigelow, an insurance agent, decapitated his wife and daughter, aged 7, killed his sister-in-law and seriously wounded his mother-in-law. All were slain in bed with a hatchet, Bigelow afterward taking his own life. His motive is unknown.

JOHNSON OPENS FIGHT FOR GOVERNMENT R. R.

CALIFORNIA SENATOR ATTACKS COMPENSATION PROVISION IN RAILROAD CONTROL BILL

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, February 19.—Senator Johnson of California opened the fight today to retain the railroads under government control after the war.

"The nation is marching straight toward the goal of public ownership. The people are at last coming into their own," he said.

He vigorously assailed the compensation provision in the Railroad Control bill. "It is indefensible," he said.

The Californian pointed to the collapse of the railroad system and its inefficiency in a war crisis making necessary government control.

"The conclusion is irresistible," Senator Johnson declared, "that we must do in times of peace what we are driven to do in time of war, and the logical outcome is government ownership."

"While the government is conscripting men at $30 a month and demanding that the citizens buy liberty bonds at 4 per cent, why should it give more than double to the railroad owners who in the nation's crisis were not equal to the task?" he said, attacking the compensation measure.

"Upon what theory is the maximum sacrifice demanded of the rest of the nation and the maximum compensation accorded the railroads?"

To the argument that politics would play an injurious part in government management of railroads, he replied: "I'll risk any kind of politics under government ownership with some I have seen under private ownership."

SAYS SUBMARINE IS FAILURE

HOOVER SAYS FOOD MOVEMENT IS HINDERED MORE BY RAILROADS THAN BY U-BOATS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, February 19.—The U-boat campaign is a failure. Food Administrator Hoover announced figures before Congress today showing that only 7 per cent of the food shipped was lost in 1917, each month showing a decrease in the losses. The last few months the losses were but one or two per cent.

Hoover warned against railroad failure. This is hurting food shipments worse than the submarines, he declared.

$50,000,000 FOR HOUSING PROGRAM

APPROPRIATION BEING RUSHED FOR HOMES FOR GOVERNMENT FACTORY WORKERS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, February 19.—A $50,000,000 appropriation is being rushed through Congress to enable the government to launch a gigantic housing program to provide decent shelter for American workmen at war factories.

Sanitary and comfortable homes will be built. Where new labor cities are springing up apart from other cities, schools, churches, stores and recreation centers will be built.

GERMANS AT DVINSKY

BERLIN WAR OFFICE ANNOUNCES SUCCESSFUL ADVANCE ON THE RUSSIAN FRONT

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

BERLIN, February 19.—The Germans entered Dvinsky with little resistance, the war office announced. Troops are located on the Dvina river near Riga.

IN CHAMPIONSHIP LINE

GLENDALE AND HOLLYWOOD TO CONTEND FOR HONORS IN SEVEN LEAGUES

A very important basketball game which put the fine team of Glendale High in line for the championship, was played last Saturday between our home team and that of San Bernardino High on the campus of Hollywood High. Glendale's team won by a score of 29 to 16 and honestly won all the credits it received, for its team work was fine and its individual play of a high order. Tummel and Milton did very splendid work at shooting the ball, Fanset equally good work in getting the ball, and the guarding of McIver Brothers was beyond praise.

The game which will decide the championship of all seven leagues of Southern California is to be played Wednesday of the present week between Glendale and Hollywood. Just where it will be played is not yet known. Our boys prefer an outside court, the Hollywood boys an inside one. If an outside court is decided upon it will probably be either that of the University of Southern California or of Los Angeles High.

FATHER'S NIGHT OUT

Attention! Fathers of the Columbus avenue school. You are called to the colors Thursday evening, February 21st, 8 o'clock promptly, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Robert White, 101 South Orange street. Mother is also urged to come, but this night is in honor of Father. A fine patriotic program has been prepared and Dr. Knowles, who has had charge of an Ambulance Corps Hospital on the Russian front, will be the speaker. He is a big man with a big message and has very recently returned from abroad. You will also have the pleasure of hearing one of Glendale's talented readers, Mrs. Gertrude Follansbee. A clever number on the program will be that contributed by pupils from Miss Edith Lindsay's School of Dancing.

The program for the evening is as follows:

Meeting called to order, Mrs. John Robert White, President.

Flag Salute, led by Mrs. C. M. Van Dyke.

Song, "Star-Spangled Banner"—Audience.

Selection, Male Quartette—Messrs. Franklin, Yarick, Abell and Beers.

Reading, Mrs. Gertrude Follansbee.

Garland Dance, Pupils of Miss Edith Lindsay—Misses Marjorie McLouth, Sarah Chandler, Barbara Blech.

Selection, Male Quartette.

Patriot Dance, "On to Victory."

Song, "It's Your Flag and My Flag"—Twelve Pupils from Fifth Grade.

"Conditions Abroad," Dr. Knowles.

"America," Audience.

Show your patriotism toward your country and loyalty towards the school and teachers who are educating your children by being present and enjoying this fine program.

Chairman of Patriotism.

BOWLING CONTEST

A very interesting bowling contest was held at the Elks' Club House Saturday evening which is but the forerunner of others to take place in the same club. Teams which were captained by Roger Brown and by J. S. Hearnshaw were arrayed against each other. At the end of play the score stood:

Brown, 41 points, 11,327 pins down.

Hearnshaw, 38 points, 10,581 pins down.

One tie. 746 pins down in favor of victors.

Men engaged in this tryout on the Brown team were: Messrs. Fanset, J. Smith, Chambers, Fortunato, Weaver, Bramble, Fish, Post, Krough; on Mr. Hearnshaw's team were: Messrs. Stone, Kerre, Wolf, Steelman, Cornwell, Bentley, Viohl, Priest and Dr. Chase.

Another contest is being arranged in which the five players on these teams who made the highest scores will be engaged. These are: Fanset, Fortunato, Weaver, Post and Brown of the Roger Brown team, and Bentley, Hearnshaw, Priest, Bentley and Dr. Chase of the J. S. Hearnshaw team.

MUSIC SECTION

The Music Section of the Tuesday Afternoon Club will meet as usual on Friday afternoon in spite of the fact that it is a national holiday. Mrs. L. N. Hagood of 1454 Salem street will entertain the section and a very nice program has been arranged for the day.

DRAWING IN THE NET

DELINQUENTS WILL SOON BE CLASSED AS DESERTERS AND PUNISHED AS SUCH

Doctors Smith, Flint and Boyer put about thirty men through physical examinations Tuesday morning at the headquarters provided by the Exemption Board. This work of examination will be completed Wednesday except for straggling cases which must show good reasons for leniency or they will be reported as slackers. Five days after Wednesday a full list of delinquents will be made up and forwarded to the Adjutant General and by him certified as soldiers. If they do not within a very short time thereafter present themselves before their local boards or before the federal authorities who have charge of the search for them, they will be classed as deserters and punished as such.

In addition to making examinations the doctors have been going over the medical examination reports of men examined before the new regulations went into effect and reclassifying men affected by the new rules.

Applicants for service in the woods are still coming in. One, S. H. Barnum, of La Canada, who was registered Tuolomne county, is seeking induction through this board into the Spruce Division of the Aviation Section, Vancouver Barracks, Washington. He says he was brought up in the timber and likes it. When work of this character is finished on the Pacific coast the men may be sent abroad.

Chairman Lanterman and Mrs. Jackson are preparing a list of delinquent for the Department of Justice, Los Angeles, which wishes to hunt up the men.

RED CROSS NOTES

Saturday was not a big day at the Red Cross Luncheon at the shop on Brand boulevard, but the patronage was fair and the chairman cleared about $8 for the Red Cross, which isn't at all bad.

Thursday evening a number of young women are planning to visit the chapter headquarters and work on surgical dressings. The knitting department will be open to accommodate those who wish to secure yarn, and knitters are requested to bring their bags, into which the yarn can be put direct, as the chapter is not provided with wrapping paper and string for such packages.

Mrs. Lawrence Ellis announces that if any seamstresses desire hand work Thursday evening, they can be accommodated by her department.

An instructive and entertaining program is being arranged by Dr. Henry R. Harrower for that evening.

THE AMBROSINI HOTEL

There has been revived on the Anthony Ambrosini vacant lots at the northeast corner of Glendale avenue and Broadway a large sign which bears the words that a six-story hotel will be erected on that site in the near future.

In an interview Mr. Ambrosini designates "the near future" as being next fall. It is the purpose of this gentleman to superintend the erection of this fireproof, six-story hotel himself, employing day laborers. He wants the work done in a substantial manner and thinks he can get what he wants better if the work is under his direct supervision. Mr. Ambrosini will leave early in March for his home in St. Paul.

SNOW MEN

Snow images are the favorite decorations in Glendale yards at the present moment. They advertise the fact that Glendale is a city of homes in which there are children who are quick to seize the opportunity of the moment and children who are resourceful in making use of an unaccustomed material as though they had been born in the frozen east. Few or none of these artists attempted the difficult feat of manufacturing separate legs, and some were content to indicate the arms by ridges neatly folded across the breast as though cold in death, but a few "shouldered arms" of a rather stumpy sort. Some indicated the masculine character of their handiwork by black pipes stuck where the mouth was indicated, and others were snow ladies. All showed industry and imagination.

MONDAY'S RAINFALL

The rainfall of Monday afternoon as shown by the rain gauge of H. E. Bartlett was 34-100 of an inch, which added to the previous fall made a total for the season to date of 2.52 inches.

A VERY DISGUSTING PRACTICE

Fortunately Glendale has not more than three persons who are given to blowing their own horn. If there is any one thing more than another that is trying to a country newspaper publisher it is to give space to people who have the "laud self" disease. The articles are written to make the reader believe that the publisher is the author when in fact he is not, and such being the case he should never give such write-ups space.

Just for a minute imagine a person bragging about himself, telling how well his lecture was received and what a great hit he made and how gracefully he appeared.

Oh, how disgusting are the methods of the grand-stand publicity seeker who, leechlike, depends upon the public for a living and is never satisfied, but always wants more and more.

THE W. C. T. U. AN UNIQUE ORGANIZATION

Brought into world-wide prominence in the past few months by its organized war relief work, the power, value and efficiency of the W. C. T. U. are receiving today a new appreciation, not only with our government, which rates it as third among the great helpful organizations of women, but with the rank and file of the people, who realize the breadth and scope of its beneficent work.

Of all organizations the wide world over, it is the most unique in its origin, persistent in its purpose and purely philanthropic in its aims. In more than fifteen thousand cities and towns in this country there are nearly five hundred thousand women wearing the little knot of white ribbon which signifies their allegiance to the high principles of the organization. In its declaration of principles, the W. C. T. U. stands squarely for the gospel of the Golden Rule, for a living wage, an eight-hour day, for courts of conciliation and arbitration, for justice as opposed to greed of gain, for "peace on earth, and good will to men," for the equal right of all to hold opinions and to express the same with equal freedom, and in one standard of purity for both men and women.

This great society started from one chance-spoken word. It was not planned; no one wrote about it, talked it up or even thought of it. A temperance lecture was given on a few hours' notice in the town of Hillsboro, Ohio, in December, 1873, by Dr. Dio Lewis. One burning sentence brought about a world-wide resultant. "O women of Hillsboro, you could pray out your saloons in a week, if you would." Within ten minutes' time, a group of earnest and heart-sick mothers had appointed a day, an hour and a leader, to march at their head in the now famous crusade against the open saloon. All other interests of life paled before this crusade idea and within two weeks a moral whirlwind swept over two hundred and fifty towns and cities in western New York and eastern Ohio, and saloons by the score were closed.

Such, briefly, is the story of the beginning of the now powerful organization which, in the early days, however, grew slowly. But the great moral principles involved attracted hundreds of brave, intrepid women, who planned the broad and constructive work of today. From the first moment that Miss Frances E. Willard, of Chicago, took the leadership in 1879, the scope of the work broadened, the methods improved, and a truly wonderful development began. Miss Willard was a woman of remarkable executive ability, with a well-trained mind and a courage which knew not how to falter if the thing to be done was right. Refusing the brilliant prospect of a professorship at Wellesley College, Miss Willard threw all her energy and force into the enlargement and strengthening of the new organization which promised such possibilities for power and influence. For eighteen years, until her death in 1898, she continued to guide most wisely the interests of the W. C. T. U., greatly enlarging its sphere of activity and developing, one by one, the forty-two separate and distinct departments of work, which today offer congenial and individual fields of effort for women of varying tendencies and abilities.

Mrs. L. M. N. Stevens, who succeeded Miss Willard, sustained her high standards and kept pace with the advance and demand of the times, foreseeing the need and promise of National Prohibition through her prophetic Proclamation. At her death, Miss Anna A. Gordon, who had been in the closest intimacy with the two great heads, was made national president, and valiant has been her work and radiant is her faith in the close-coming victory.

Broadly speaking, the scope of the W. C. T. U. is to protect and educate the young, form a higher sentiment as to temperance and purity, rescue the tempted, improve general conditions, and eventually secure the abolition of the liquor traffic. Many are the beneficent laws placed upon national, state and municipal statute books through the efforts of the white ribboners. Because of their work every child of the twenty-five million in our public schools is taught clearly and scientifically the evils of alcohol and tobacco, and in many ways our soldiers and sailors have been protected and benefited through this organized mother-love. Probably not one of the twenty-seven prohibition states could have carried the vote successfully had it not been for the plans, prayers and work of the W. C. T. U.

The once insignificant organization has had a much broader influence than most people, who do not know it intimately, dream. Many of the leading club women were trained in executive detail and parliamentary usage in the W. C. T. U., and many of the leading reforms of today, now successful and popular, were first fostered in this courageous organization which has blazed the way for many things. But through all the phases and forms of its civilizing, philanthropic and Christianizing work, the thought and aim of temperance runs like a golden thread, never long out of sight, whatever the immediate need may be.

WAR CONFERENCE

War activities effecting every part of the State will be taken up at the big war conference called for March 5th and 6th in San Francisco by the State Council of Defense. The two-day program is to be featured not only by a joint conference at which representatives of practically every war-work body in the state will tell of work already done and yet to be done. but also by brief addresses by a dozen or more of the most prominent men and women in California now engaged in war work. The conference, which is to be held in the Palace Hotel at San Francisco, is expected to be attended by more than 200 persons.

Co-ordination of all war activities and the taking up of new lines of war endeavor which are intended to aid to the utmost the National government's war program will be the principal purpose of the meeting. Governor Stephens will make the opening address of the two-day conference.

Among those who are expected to speak at the conference are Archbishop Hanna; James K. Lynch, president of the Federal Reserve Bank and the chairman of the Liberty Loan Committee for the Pacific Coast district; Marshall Hale, Pacific Coast director of the Red Cross; Ralph P. Merritt, federal food administrator; Albert Schwabacher, federal fuel administrator; Mrs. Herbert A. Cable, president of the California Federation of Women's Clubs and chairman of the Women's Committee of the National and State Councils of Defense; P. H. McCarthy, president of the State Building Trades Council and noted labor leader; William Sproule, president and general manager of the Southern Pacific Railway; John S. Drum, of the War Savings Committee; Dr. Day Lyman Wilbur, of the University of California; John A. Britton and numerous others of equal prominence.

UNCLE SAM'S FIGHTING FORCES

Between April 1, 1917, and the first of the present year Uncle Sam's available fighting force on land has been increased from 214,600 to 1,539,506, according to information just furnished to the State Council of Defense by the War Department. Mathematically this represents the creation of a land fighting force more than seven times larger than the nucleus from which it was built and the great increase was accomplished in less than nine months' time.

The growth of the American army during the last nine months of 1917, as shown from official figures by the War Department, is as follows:

	1917		1918
	Officers	Men	Officers	Men
Regular Army	5,791	121,797	10,250	475,000
National Guard	3,733	76,713	16,031	400,000
National Army	.....	.....	.....	480,000
Reserve	2,573	4,000	84,575	72,750
Total	12,097	202,510	110,856	1,428,650

While the exact figures as to the number of men contributed by California to Uncle Sam's new land force are unavailable, it is known that up to January 1 of this year, this state had given close to 20,000 men to the regular army and to the National Guard. This number is not inclusive of those called into the national army through the draft, or of enlistments in the navy, which have been unusually heavy.

The new United States army is now one and a half times as large as the biggest force ever mobilized during the Civil War and almost six times larger than the American force of 272,000 men which took part in the Spanish-American War.

A TRAGIC WAR LESSON FROM BLEEDING FRANCE

William Allen White, in his recently published series of war articles, made this statement: "Tuberculosis is the most gaping wound in bleeding France. Tuberculosis is for the French the greatest and most awful by-product of the war. Tuberculosis, if it is not checked, will conquer France after the German guns have been forced across the Rhine. For during the three years last past, conditions in France have combined with devilish fatality to make the land a vast culture-ground of the tuberculosis germ." We have learned many lessons from the war experience of our Allies, and this one of communicable disease control is not the least. Tuberculosis prevention in American soldiers and civilians must at no time be neglected.

There is no slap-stick humor in the statement that the greatest battlefields of this war are in the kitchens of America. The fight against the waste of foodstuffs is waged by American women in their own homes and the final outcome of the war rests more largely upon this saving of foodstuffs than upon any other factor. Greater responsibilities have never in the world's history been placed upon women. The United States Food Administration has shown the way to save foodstuffs; the results depend upon the women of America.

CHAFFEE'S

"Where Cash Beats Credit"

"Food Will Decide the War"

Says Mr. Hoover

Food means first of all BREAD; BREAD in some form every human being must have.

The substitution of a half-pound of cereal flour a day for the same quantity of White Flour means a daily SAVING OF 10,000,000 POUNDS OF WHEAT, depending upon the 20,000,000 Housewives to do their bit.

YOU ARE ONE OF THESE HOUSEWIVES—do your bit by serving MULTIGRAIN BREAD on your table. The weight of one loaf is 24 ounces, less than half of which is white flour, the other ingredients being BARLEY, RYE, OAT and GRAHAM Flours.

If you buy a loaf of MULTIGRAIN BREAD each day in place of White Bread, you will be doing MORE than your bit.

HOME GARDENING INSTRUCTIONS

"Home Gardening in the South," a new bulletin just issued by the United States Department of Agriculture for free distribution, takes account of the special crop conditions of the Southern States and discusses them in a manner designed to help in the utilization for home gardening of land that heretofore has not been productive of human food.

Because of the great necessity for increasing the Nation's food supplies this year, the home gardening movement is expected to be of much greater scope even than the campaign of last year.

The bulletin for the South treats, among other topics, the following:

Location of the garden, plan and arrangement of the garden, importance of sunlight, succession and rotation of crops, methods of growing early plants, tools for the garden, seeds for the garden, preparation of the soil and improving its texture, cultivation and irrigation of garden crops, insects and diseases affecting garden crops, storage of vegetables for the garden. Cultural suggestions are given for all the common vegetables.

It is the opinion of the United States Food Administration that the gross maximum profit for wholesalers in flour should not exceed from 50 to 75 cents per barrel. The profit to retail dealers in original mill packages should not exceed from 80 cents to $1.20 per barrel, depending upon the character of service performed. Where retailers sell in amounts less than the original mill packages, the gross profit should not exceed 1 cent a pound.

Personals

Comrade Robert Taylor, of Palmer avenue, who has been quite ill, is very much better and expects soon to be in his usual health.

Chapter L, P. E. O., will meet tomorrow (Wednesday) at Red Cross headquarters to sew on hospital garments under the direction of Mrs. Lawrence Ellis.

Mrs. J. Yancey, wife of Sheriff Yancey of Bakersfield, was the weekend house guest of Mrs. W. M. Crawford of 916 Central avenue. The two ladies are old friends.

Lieutenant Lester L. Meyer, of Aviation Section U. S. R., who has been flying at San Diego and who has been recently promoted to the office of instructor, left Monday night for New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Retts who formerly resided on Brand boulevard but are now living in Long Beach, were Sunday guests in the home of Mrs. Fannie Marple of 149 W. Palmer street.

The Evening News wants real instructive news, wholesome news, the kind that is logical and easily understood. The columns of the little evening paper should not be left open merely to reading matter that serves as a filler to gratify the desire of erratic persons.

A big Sunday School social is scheduled to come off Thursday evening at the Glendale Presbyterian church. A good program, good eats and a good time are promised. All members of the Sunday School except the primary department are expected to be there and their friends will be welcome.

Mrs. William M. Blakemore of 1456 Milford street is having the pleasure of a visit from her sister, Mrs. Ralph Reynolds and little son Bobbie Reynolds of Pomona. Last Thursday after Mrs. Reynold's arrival Mrs. Blakemore entertained Mrs. John C. Miles and Mrs. Putnam of Redlands.

Mrs. J. J. Davis of 900 Damasco court will entertain the ladies of the Glendale Presbyterian church and their friends Friday afternoon from 2 to 5 with a Patriotic Tea. The hostess is planning some surprises in the way of decorations and program and it promises to be a very delightful social affair. A collection will be taken for the benefit of the Ladies' Aid.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Lawshe, who had planned to entertain a party of friends with a picnic in Griffith Prak today, have substituted a house party where they can view in warmth and comfort the icicles outside. Their guests are Rev. M. M. Pearson, pastor of the Presbyterian church of Orange, and Mrs. Pearson, and Millard F. Pearson and wife of Indiana, all old friends of Mr. and Mrs. Lawshe when all were residents of the Hoosier State.

Mr. and Mrs. Norton Marshall entertained Sunday with a family dinner at their ranch near Roscoe. It was quite an elaborate affair with turkey as the foundation of the feast. Their guest list included: Mr. and Mrs. William H. La Fountain, Harry La Fountain, William La Fountain, Jr., Grandma Hotaling, Martha La Fountain. The dinner was arranged as a celebration of the birthdays of Mrs. Marshall and Mrs. La Fountain.

Mrs. M. Ranger, a former resident of Glendale and proprietor of the Schilling Dry Goods store, but who is now at El Centro with Varney Brothers, who are operating a chain of stores in the Imperial Valley, visited Glendale this week. She likes the valley very much and likes its people. She says they have had a wonderful winter with lots of business. Her son, Fred Blackinton, who is in the navy, is at San Pedro. The young wife to whom he was married in November is with her parents in Los Angeles.

But 2,001 men have been exempted on the ground of "moral deficiency." This phrase was defined by the President's regulation to include persons convicted and sentenced for felony in any court of record.

According to a statement by the manager of the Emergency Fleet Corporation, the Shipping Board now has 176 shipways, of which 312 are for wooden ships and 404 for steel construction. The program calls for the construction in 1918 of eight times the tonnage delivered in 1916, at a cost of more than $1,000,000,000.

NOTICE OF HEARING

Notice is hereby given that the undersigned has applied to the City of Glendale for a permit to operate a Motor Bus between Los Angeles and Sunland and that a hearing on application will be held at the council chambers, City Hall, Glendale, California, Feb. 21, 1918, at 8 p. m.

NOTABLE RECEPTION

DR. RUSSELL, STATE PRESIDENT GUEST OF HONOR OF P.-T. A. FEDERATION

The excellent audience which gathered Tuesday evening at the High School in spite of the fact that it was a bleak, uncomfortable night for Southern California, testified to the general interest in the work of the Parent-Teacher Federation and the esteem in which Dr. Jessie Russell, President of the State organization and guest of honor, is held. It showed that, the Scriptures to the contrary notwithstanding, a prophet is sometimes honored in his own country.

The president of the Glendale Federation, Mrs. Arthur Brown, was prevented by illness from presiding. Her place was satisfactorily taken by the vice-president, Mrs. Harry Greenwalt, whose easy manner led the meeting most agreeably along the pleasant paths which the program provided.

It opened with the salute to the flag, led by Ruth Palmer and Faith Tarling. This was followed by delightful piano numbers by Mrs. L. N. Hagood, the first a Russian composition, the second by Nevin.

Mrs. Charles H. Toll was then introduced to the audience by Mrs. Greenwalt and she told in a pleasant conversational way of her first acquaintance with Doctor Russell and of their work together when the Federation was young. She expressed her appreciation of the Doctor and of the distinction which had been conferred upon Glendale when Doctor Russell was elected president of the State Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher Associations.

Little Florence Rattray sang in a wonderful way for a child "The Last Rose of Summer" and followed with a charming rendition of "Laddie," which was even better adapted to her voice.

Mrs. Charles M. Turck then gave some of her inimitable dialect stories which were all amusing, some of them related to educational incidents, and all of which convulsed the audience. It would have been glad to have her continue indefinitely. The program was all so good that any of the contributors could have been the sole entertainer and pleased the hearers.

Mrs. Turck was followed by the double trio of the Music Section of the Tuesday Club, which gave a really delightful rendition of that favorite, "The Kerry Dances," and an encore number less familiar.

Miss Cora Hickman, the Press Chairman of the organization, then presented greetings from Glendale to Doctor Russell, reviewing their acquaintance from early days when both were new in this locality, and voicing the pride which Glendale, the county and the State have in Doctor Russell in her present office. Later a poem epitomizing these sentiments and dedicated to Doctor Russell, which had been written by Miss Eva Daniels, was read by Mrs. Greenwalt in connection with the presentation of a beautiful bouquet of jonquils and hyacinths from the Federation, as follows:

Ladies, greetings, if I may,
From Glendale Federation P.-T. A.
To all other associations
Who have joined in this declaration.
For the woman with the hustle,
Our own dear Dr. Jessie Russell.
So at this fleeting hour,
Underneath this floral bower,
We can tell without deception
Our good will at this reception.
Is there need to relate
Dr. Russell is president for the state.
Clubs there be and plenty others,
But none like the Congress of Mothers.
So to our president, friend and neighbor
Do we extend our love and favor.
May you always for us labor,
Tried and true we'll stand by you.

We truly know your goodly deeds,
To help us in our many needs.
Keep up this work with heart and mind
To help California's womankind,
And to show our appreciation
We've joined to make this a completion,
A roundup of school and club and home.
To do you honor, Dr. Russell,
Just keep on with your hustle, hustle.
Tried and true we'll stand by you.

Mrs. Mabel Capell greatly pleased the audience with "Evening Star" and her encore number, "A Wee Bit Shy." She has a powerful voice of fine dramatic quality and won considerable applause, as did all the artists who contributed musical numbers.

The last musical number and the one which closed the program was by Dr. P. O. Lucas, who sang "Carnival" with excellent effect and then "Caroline," in which he was still more at home and which excellently suited his mellow voice.

Doctor Russell made a winning though entirely simple and unaffected response to the testimonials of appreciation which had been showered upon her. She looked very young and girlish to be the head of the big State organization of 26,000 mothers, but she exhibited as usual the qualities which have won her this leadership and which are likely to carry her far if she does not break down under the strain of her strenuous life. She spoke appreciatively of the unselfish spirit of service which is abroad in the land and which is a constant stimulant to endeavor for the best good of the home, the state and the nation.

Unison singing of "America" closed the program and the audience was dismissed to enjoy a social cup of punch and the wafers which were served with it, and the opportunity to congratulate Doctor Russell and the officers of the Federation on the fine program provided to celebrate the birthday of the organization and achievements of which it has reason to be proud.

DINNER PARTY

Miss Dorothy B. Poppy was hostess at a pretty dinner given at t he home of Mr. and Mrs. William Thomson, 136 South Jackson street, Sunday evening.

The guest of honor was Miss Bertha Antonia Hanson of Grafton, North Dakota, an old friend of Miss Poppy and her family. The table was centered with freesias and violets and dainty place cards served as favors. The guest list, in addition to the honoree, included Mr. and Mrs. L. J. McConnell, Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Poppy, and Mrs. L. H. Gedy, all of Los Angeles.

ALLOW 30 DAYS FOR MAIL TO SOLDIERS

That thirty days are required for letters and packages to reach the American expeditionary forces in France, and that many letters are delayed even longer because of improper addressing, the statement is made by Otto Praeger, second assistant postmaster-general at Washington.

Urging that accurate addresses be placed on each article sent abroad and at least thirty days be counted on as the period of time taken for the article to reach France, Postmaster J. S. Todd asks that all persons sending mail to the American expeditionary forces read carefully the following statement made by the second assistant Postmaster-General:

"Mail for American troops stationed in England is transmitted by the postoffice department to the army postoffice, London, England, which gives the mail to the proper military authorities for delivery to the addressee.

"Mail for Americans who may be serving in the English, the Canadian or the French army is dispatched as foreign mail to the postal service of the foreign government with which such American is identified, and the delivery of such mail is effected by such government.

"Mail for members of the American expeditionary forces in France, including civilians and independent organizations attached to the American expeditionary forces, is handled by the United States army postal service, which delivers the mail in bulk to the proper military authorities, who undertake the delivery of the letters, papers or parcels to the individuals to whom they are addressed. All mail for the American expeditionary forces in France is made up in this country to companies and other units, and under military regulations is delivered by the postal authorities in France to the regular military mail orderlies or their agents, who, upon returning to the camps or stations of the troops, undertake the delivery of this mail to the individuals to whom it is addressed, or, if they cannot deliver it, undertake to have it sent to such other unit to which the addressees may have been transferred. Should an addressee not be known in the regiment his letters are returned to the postal authorities, who endeavor to locate him at the general military headquarters. Should the addressee have been transferred to some other unit the mail orderlies are under instructions to readdress his letters to the proper unit. Every effort is being made by the American authorities in France to effect, as promptly as war conditions admit, the delivery of mail for our troops.

"Complaints as to delay or failure to deliver letters, papers or parcels, arise in the main from the fact that persons communicating with our troops do not take into consideration that approximately thirty days are required from the time of mailing for a letter to reach the addressee, owing to the disturbed ocean traffic. By far the larger part of the mail is taken to France on the army transports, which of necessity must give preference to men and supplies, and the movement of mail across the water consequently is very irregular. Again, the railroad transportation in France is strained to the utmost to meet military needs. Many persons who have complained to the postoffice department have later advised that the mail is reaching the persons to whom it was addressed in a satisfactory manner. Their original complaints were due to not allowing sufficient time for their letters to get across and the answers to return.

"Another cause of complaint is due to the insufficient manner in which letters are addressed. Thousands of communications, as well as parcels, reach the military terminals with an insufficient address, and weeks must sometimes elapse before it is possible to obtain the necessary information to complete the address. The English and French governments refuse to forward letters which do not carry the complete address, and with the steady increase in the volume of mail from this country to soldiers in France, the postoffice department will shortly be compelled to follow the same practice and return to the senders all such pieces of mail."

The help you give in time of need is the help that is worth while.

It is the patriotic duty of all users to avoid waste of gasoline.

A saving of one and three-quarter pints each day for each automobile and truck will insure enough for government needs for the coming year.

ADVENTIST SERVICE

That the prediction of Christ that "this gospel of the kingdom shall be preached in all the world for a witness unto all nations, and then shall the end come," is about to be fulfilled, was the declaration of Elder B. E. Beddoe, in a discourse at the Glendale Seventh-day Adventist church, Third and Isabel streets, at the regular service last Saturday morning. "We have come to a time in earth's history which looks to me to be very dark," he said, "and yet we have come to the hour when we are about to see the mightiest revival of earth's history. We have come to the hour when, figuratively speaking, the earth is to tremble under the influence of a message which will stir the hearts of people in every clime and speaking every tongue. The message of the coming kingdom of Christ, and of his glorious appearing in the clouds of heaven, is to go into all the world, to every nation, and then the end will come.

"It is recorded in Matthew the 24th chapter that Christ told the disciples Jerusalem would be destroyed, which was accomplished by the Roman general Titus, in A. D. 70. Hearing of this the apostles asked, 'When shall these things be, and what shall be the sign of thy coming, and of the end of the world.' Jesus began to tell them of the events which would precede the destruction of Jerusalem, and then opened to their minds the infinitely greater events to precede his coming. He told them the end would follow the gospel proclamation in all the world.

"Paul, writing to the Colossians, in the first chapter, third and 23d verses, shows that the gospel did go in the few years after Christ's ascension, to the then known, civilized world. Connected with that movement was a vigorous persecution of the Christians. Paul's own countrymen, holding the established religion of the times, were infuriated by the progress this new movement was making, and put forth strenuous efforts to blot it from the face of the earth. It was the religious leaders who turned this apostle over to Nero for the last time, falsely accusing Paul of instigating the burning of Rome, which charge should have been lodged against Nero himself.

"A few years later the church began to backslide, and because they surrendered the life of the gospel born in them by the presence of Jesus and the outpouring of the Holy Spirit, spiritual darkness reigned everywhere. As the centuries passed, the number of believers lessened. Moral darkness reigned in the world for more than 1,000 years.

"Under the influence of God's Spirit the Reformation was born, and progressed until about 1833, when men arose like William Miller, who preached of a coming judgment. Between that time and 1844 that message went with great power. Under the influence of that revival thousands of infidels and atheists were converted. After that message went, the church began to decline, and I am sure those who are gray with years, and who know something of that revival, will say that today the church is far lower in the scale of spirituality than it was in 1840. Talk with these aged persons, and they will tell you how, in the revivals of 50, 60 and 70 years ago men of God came from their prayer chambers and stood before great throngs, proclaiming a gospel which brought the people to their knees and to the altar, confessing their sins. But a great change has taken place, and a mighty movement, calling the world back to the Bible is due just now. Matthew 24 tells about the last generation of earth's history. We have been living in that generation, until it has nearly spent its years."

CONSTRUCTIVE WORK PRAISED

Recently Dr. Margaret S. McNaught, state elementary school commissioner, completed a tour of inspection and advice to the schools of Monterey county. She is endeavoring gradually to carry the inspiration of her high ideals for grammar school education into all the counties of California. Regarding her visit to Monterey county, Superintendent George Schultzburg writes the State Board of Education as follows:

"Your commissioner of elementary education, Dr. Margaret S. McNaught, is certainly doing a magnificent work in her educational tours of the counties of the state.

"Dr. McNaught knows how to talk to rural people and also how to talk to children. The results of her tour of Monterey county cannot be measured only in terms of the physical improvement of school property made in preparation for her visit (and still continuing as a result of her stimulating influence) but must be also measured in terms of awakened interest in educational matters throughout the county.

"The physical stamina and untiring energy displayed by Dr. McNaught on our arduous journey (average of seven talks and one hundred miles of auto travel per day over all kinds of roads) is really remarkable.

I am writing this letter so that you may be encouraged to allow her to continue this good work in other counties.

Men who are capable of handling horses are still wanted for the Veterinary Corps. They must be physically fit and not of selective-service age.

WOULD EXPORT CORNMEAL

The possibility and advisability of exporting cornmeal to Europe is suggested in an interesting letter to an eastern exchange. After stating the country has a bumper crop of the country has a bumper crop of 3,000,000,000 bushels of corn the writer asks why only wheat has been shipped to the allies. If corn is good for Americans, he remarks, why not for Europeans? The answer that cornmeal will not keep in transportation he refutes in the following words:

In a history of my native town of Derby, Conn., it is stated that in the latter part of the eighteenth century a mill was built and operated for the main purpose of grinding corn for export to the West Indies. This meal was kiln dried and would keep for any length of time in any climate. This was during the period between the revolution and the first few years of the nineteenth century. The Derby Fishing company owned and operated a fleet of small vessels for the West Indies trade. These took out principally salt codfish and cornmeal, and brought back sugar, molasses and rum. My only point in this fragment of history is the meal.

If cornmeal could be prepared to keep indefinitely by the crude possibilities of kiln drying a century ago, what is to hinder the science and mechanical skill of these days from preparing it on a large scale for export? It is certainly a muscle and fat producing food. The mainstay of the New England people from the landing at Plymouth to 200 years thereafter, was the corn bin—mush and milk, mush and molasses, cornbread, divers kinds of puddings, baked or boiled, furnished muscle, bone and fat for growing children and adults as well.

To the oft-repeated assertion that Europeans do not know how to prepare cornmeal for food, the reply is easy. The methods of preparation are very simple and easily put into practice.

A list of printed formulas might go into each bag or package, and any people that are in straits for food, as are many of the allies at this time, can easily follow and even improve on them.

We spend $50,000,000 in building a shipyard or a cantonment. Why not spend a million or two in mills for grinding and preparing for export a part of our biggest food crop, especially now that Mr. Hoover figures that all of the surplus wheat has already gone abroad and whatever more we send must be saved by all of our people in foregoing its use and substituting some other form of grain for bread? Let the allies assist in this substitution.

INSURANCE FOR ENLISTED MEN

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 19.—Enlisted men who were in service when the War Risk Insurance Bill became a law will have an additional 60 days in which to apply for such insurance, according to information just received by the State Council of Defense from Washington. A resolution passed by Congress and approved by President Wilson extends the time limit in which war risk insurance could be taken out from February 12 to April 12. The time limit set by the government does not apply to men who have enlisted in the army or navy since the insurance act became a law. Those enlisting since that time are given 120 days from the date of their enlistment in which they can apply for such insurance.

Although the time limit for applying for war risk insurance has been extended, the $4500.00 insurance which Uncle Sam automatically gave to every man who enlisted before war risk insurance was available, is no longer in effect. Enlisted men in order to be insured will now have to make application to the government.

Under the terms of the War Risk Insurance Act, any person who is permitted by law to become a beneficiary for soldiers insurance can make application for and pay for such insurance for an enlisted man. Relatives of soldiers and sailors can make written application for such insurance or secure information regarding it at the War Risk Insurance Bureau of the Western Department of the U. S. Army, Santa Fe Building, San Francisco, or through the State Council of Defense, 724 Phelan Building, San Francisco.

Where a relative of an enlisted man does not know whether he has taken out such insurance and takes it out for him, and it should turn out that the enlisted man already has procured such insurance, the duplication will be ascertained later in Washington and the premiums paid by relatives returned to them.

TRUCK ROADS ARE MAPPED

A pathfinder car has started on a new lap of mapping out Army truck roads for the Government, one official route having already been laid out from Detroit to the Atlantic coast and another from Buffalo to the seaboard. The car will go as far west as the Mississippi River and will map routes from cities in Wisconsin, Illinois, Michigan, Indiana, and Ohio.

When this trip is completed the Government will have four main highways forming connecting links between the great manufacturing centers and the Atlantic seaboard. Motor trucks on their way to France will follow these routes.

NEW THOUGHT CENTER

Masonic Temple, 532 South Brand Blvd.

Dr. Frank Riley used as his subject for the Sunday morning lecture, "Man's Spiritual Birthright".

After reading the story of Jacob and Esau from the book of Genesis, Dr. Riley said: "Many of these wonderful stories are allegories, interwoven with the names of historical characters, teaching some helpful truth, but never intended to be taken historically.

"Two great intellects, Ingersoll and Paine, spent their lives ridiculing the Bible. The so-called historical facts that the seminaries teach, that literal interpretation is often assailed, but the spirit of the Bible cannot die. Truth is eternal, and is not truth because it is found in the Bible, but is in the Bible because it is truth.

"The people in the pews are beginning to know more than the ministers, and are asking for the true spiritual meaning. We are realizing that what we need is spiritual meat, not the husks of creeds and theologies.

"The two, Jacob and Esau, struggled for mastery. Esau typifies the animal, the material, in man's nature which is always dominant at first. Jacob, the man of God, becomes dominant. Esau sold his birthright for material comforts, so the story goes. What are you doing? What shall it profit a man if he gain the whole world and lose his own soul, and what shall a man give in exchange for his soul?

"The world at large is selling out its birthright for material things, and it fails to receive the blessing. The things that seem the most real are really the unreal—a seeming paradox. Anything that disintegrates is unreal, but that real, eternal part is man's spiritual birthright.

"To-day this tremendous fight between the higher and the lower is going on in the great world of nations. Did you stop to consider that the iron cross of the Kaiser denotes the human will, and the human will, the carnal mind, is at enmity against God? The belief that might is right, that evil is supreme, the claim that God is working with evil—the Kaiser's doctrine must be swept away.

"After realizing and recognizing the higher spiritual needs and nature of life,there is the vision, the dream, to sustain man. 'Tis true, we must climb rung by rung up the ladder to the heights beyond. This evolution of the soul brings happiness and God's blessing."

Mrs. U. F. Newlin sang "O, Rest in the Lord", acompanied by Miss Ruth Whytock.

A meeting of the congregation was held after the service for the purpose of electing new officers.

Mrs. J. C. Dennerlin, who has been the chairman for the past two years, since the organization of the center, was prevailed upon to continue the work. Miss Olive Williams, the wonderfully efficient organizer and superintendent of the Sunday School, resigned, nominating Mrs. Minnette Sherman to succeed her.

The following officers were elected to serve the ensuing year:

Mrs. J. C. Dennerlin, Chairman
Mrs. C. N. Williams, Assistant Chairman
Mr. J. O. Marsh, Secretary
Mr. C. R. Carmack, Treasurer
Mrs. Minnette Sherman, Superintendent of Sunday School
Mr. Claude Putnam, Press Correspondent
Mrs. U. F. Newlin, Chairman of Music
Mrs. Hazel Putnam, Pianist
Miss Ruth Whytock, Assistant

Dr. Riley's subject for next Sunday will be, "The Science and Art of Thinking".

TEACHERS FOR TRADE COURSES

Enlistments, drafts and the exceptional demands of industry have depleted the supply of vocational teachers of trade and industrial subjects in California and many school shops and laboratories are idle. In order to alleviate this situation and prevent its recurrence, arrangements have been perfected between the University of California, the Los Angeles Normal School and the State Board of Education for the organization of night school classes for the training of teachers of trade and industrial subjects. The expense of this special educational work will be paid largely from federal and state funds provided by the Smith-Hughes act and administered in California by the State Board of Education.

Charles L. Jacobs, at present superintendent of industrial education in San Francisco and who has a national reputation for his work in vocational guidance, has been appointed director of teacher training in trade and industry at the University of California, to devote his entire time to recruiting and supervising classes in these subjects. All persons enrolling in these classes must be at least twenty-four years of age, have had two or more years experience as journeymen workers and pass a satisfactory examination in oral and written English composition, in civics and general information. The length of the courses will depend on the supply and demand for teachers of vocational subjects.

Frank H. Ball, formerly president of the Santa Barbara Normal School, has been appointed to a similar position at the Los Angeles Normal School and will organize and supervise night school classes in trade and industrial subjects in Los Angeles.

ENGLAND BUYS IN CALIFORNIA

Orders for 50,000 pounds monthly of currants, prunes, Sultana raisins and walnuts came by cablegram yesterday from England to the Trade Extension Bureau of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce. The purchases will be made with the authority of the English government and cash will be available on shipment from New York.

This huge order, which will amount to approximately $3,000,000 a year for southland products, came as a result of an official investigation of food products in this section made several months ago by representatives of the English army.

Growesr who are in a position to furnish any considerable portion of this order may learn details by consulting with the Trade Extension Bureau of the Los Angeles Chamber.
